The Epworth League of the Methodist church has closed the contest between the "Reds" and "Whites," for lessons, music and attendance, and the victorious team, in charge of Miss Nellie Tolleth, was given a banquet recently by the losing team, in charge of Herbert Mersdorf, captain of the "Reds."

For Better Roads.

The first good roads meeting under the auspices of the Joint Good roads association was held at Meridian Monday night. The meeting was most enthusiastic, and during the evening a Meridian Good Roads association was organized auxiliary to the Ada county association, and over 40 names were pledged to the cause of good roads.

The officers chosen were: George Atwater, president; H. B. Carpenter, vice president; Mrs. McFadden, secretary, and Dr. Reynolds, treasurer. Messrs. In 1869 he was married to Eliza J. Baird, who departed this life 16 years ago. Five children survive him, three sons, J. T., L. H. and W. E. Barber, and two daughters, Mrs. S. W. Hutcheson and Mrs. John Besby. There are nine grandchildren. Besides these, he leaves four sisters, Mrs. A. M. Sanders, of Aylmer, West Ontario; Mrs. James Bowlby, of Hercher, Ill.; Mrs. L. M. Walter, of Portland, Ore., and Mrs. John Flucker, of Alberta, Canada. He was raised an Episcopalian, but united with the Methodist church in 1886.

In Mr. Barber's death, the community has lost a kind and noble citizen, and the children a dear and loving father.

The funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon, from the Methodist church in Meridian. A large number of sympathizing friends were present. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Sharpe. The Odd Fellows lodges of Eagle and Meridian had charge of the arrangements. The floral offerings were many and beautiful.

Champlin & Tolleth, dealers in general merchandise, dissolved partnership this week. Harry Tolleth will continue the business. Harry Champlin has not announced his future intentions but will remain in Meridian for some time at least. There is general regret that Mr. Champlin has severed his connection with the firm, as they have a good and increasing trade. In the hands of Mr. Tolleth, however, the business will be continued in good shape.
